Explore Columbia's Historic House & Garden District and take a journey through the dynamic history of South Carolina's capital city by touring the properties of Historic Columbia.

Tour Descriptions

The Museum of the Reconstruction at the Woodrow Wilson Family Home

Wed-Sat: 10:30 a.m.; Sun: 1:30 p.m.

The nation's only museum dedicated to interpreting the post-Civil War Reconstruction period and South Carolina's only remaining presidential site, this distinctive circa-1871 Italian villa-style residence was home to a 14-year-old boy named "Tommy" Woodrow Wilson.

Hampton-Preston Mansion & Gardens

Wed-Sat: 12:00 p.m.; Sun: 1:30 p.m.

One of Columbia's oldest remaining structures, the Hampton-Preston Mansion explores the lives of enslaved workers and their planter-class owners.

Journey to Freedom

Wed-Sat: 1:30 p.m.; Sun: 3:00 p.m.

Over four centuries, Columbia's Black community transformed itself from a predominantly enslaved population to a society whose members overcame the restrictions of Jim Crow and charted the course of the Civil Rights era. Uncover the rich Black history of Columbia at the Modjeska Monteith Simkins House and Mann-Simons Site.

Robert Mills House

Wed-Sun: 3:00 p.m.

One of only five National Historic Landmarks in Columbia, the Robert Mills House showcases the skill of the architect who designed some of our nation's most prominent buildings, including the Washington Monument.
